Here are the date, time and location of our next meeting. The room should be open at 7 p.m.

Wednesday, April 22, 2015, at 7:30 p.m.
The Canadian Football Hall of Fame and Museum, Auditorium
58 Jackson Street West
Hamilton, Ontario L8P 1L4

The Hall of Fame is located just east of Hamilton City Hall. There is plenty of parking available in the adjacent lot behind City Hall. Payment is required until 9 p.m. An elevator is available for those who need it. It is located left of the base of the stairs which lead to the main entrance, past the free-standing, upright burgundy-coloured sign. Visit www.ghpcc.ca and see the Meetings-Location page for more details. We had expected to be at the Burlington Fortinos off Plains Road this month, but the venue was not available.

Upcoming Meetings: Meeting dates for the rest of 2015 are May 27, June 24, September 23, October 28, and November 25. There are no meetings in July, August or December.

Agenda for the Meeting of April 22, 2015 (not necessarily in this order)

- (1) General Discussion: Bring any information that you'd like to share with the group.
- (2) The Book(s): We'll have our regular discussion about "This is a Beautiful City".
- (3) Location of Future Meetings: We'll continue the discussion about a new meeting place. Please see Newsletter 242 for details. If you have any suggestion, please put them forward at the meeting or contact one of the executive.
- (4) SmithBooks (and Presentation #1): No, not W.H. Smith – the other SmithBooks! Or maybe that should be BookSmith – or maybe just Mike Smith. As per a communiqué from Jon Soyka ...

"Mike Smith will be in the area next week and, assuming there are no unforeseen problems, will be attending our April 22nd meeting at the Canadian Football Hall of Fame. He will be bringing copies of his books that will be for sale to our members. I suggest to everyone that they check the editions that they already have and then come prepared to buy some more. Mike will be clearing out some of the publications at $5.00 each.

Mike will also make a presentation of "Unlisted Cards" and some other stuff.

Be there."

(5) Presentation #2: Alan Hebb will give a short presentation on the interesting story of the collision of the S.S. Parisian with the Hamburg-American steamer Albano as recorded by The Halifax Herald in March 1905. Courtesy of the Nova Scotia Public Archives, he has a copy of the story as well as a couple of post cards.

(6) Presentation #3: Jon Soyka will continue with the "Doubles" program, showing old post cards and current images of the locations, if there's time.

Would Anyone Care to do a Presentation at an Upcoming Meeting?

If you would like to give a presentation at one of our meetings, please advise us of the subject of your talk and the meeting date at which you'd like to present. Everyone has something interesting to offer so have a look at your collection and share some of it with us!

Also Consider Contributing to the Newsletter!

If you have an article or an idea for one, and would like to contribute to the newsletter, please feel free to do so. If you have any questions about how to submit an article, just ask!

Ship Collision Without Loss of Life (from Alan Hebb):

On the subject of a ship collision without loss of life, here is the SS Princess May on the rocks near Sentinel Island, Alaska, August 5, 1910. The Princess May ran onto the rocks at high tide and the passengers were taken off by lifeboat. When the tide receded, the Canadian Pacific steamer was precariously stranded. The vessel's back was not broken, and she was eventually refloated without major damage. Part B of this subject of ship collision involving steamer Parisian without loss of life will be presented at our meeting on April 22, 2015.

Minutes of the Meeting of March 25, 2015
Held at the Canadian Football Hall of Fame

Number of Attendees: 13

Chaired by: Jon Soyka

Club Members in Attendance (alphabetically):

Don Babb, Sandra Beveridge, Larry Cherns, Wayne Curtis, Alan Hebb, Ivan Killins, Wilf Lowry, Peggy MacLeod, Bill Nancekivell, Carl Schlosser, Jon Soyka, Lorne Smith, Ross Taylor.

Guest: Rick Hills

After the usual pre-meeting gab-fest, we continued with the Show and Tell session which began at the February meeting: “My THREE favourite post card finds since our last meeting in November”.

Wayne Curtis had 10 cards from a B. C. Artists Series, and was pleased to find 2 more, featuring works by Emily Carr and JWG MacDonald (a Scot who moved to Canada). 12 cards and looking for more! He also found a Lawren Harris card. Harris was a member of the Group of Seven and a member of the Harris family of Massey-Harris fame (later Massey-Harris-Ferguson and then Massey-Ferguson). Another recent purchase was a C.P. rail card showing mountains and ice, of someone climbing the Great Glacier in B.C. A printing curiosity was also shown in the form of a Warwick card which shows the Warwick logo upside down on the back of the card.

Peggy MacLeod showed some scans of recently-acquired real photo cards from Fort William and Port Arthur, including Chief John Thunder of the Fort William Reserve in full Indian dress at Chippewa Park in 1935. Another RP showed the original store on Lake Superior’s Silver Islet, adorned with Salada Tea, 7-Up, and Coca Cola signs as well as a full contingent of seagulls on the roof. Silver Islet was noted for its silver mine. Another showed a group of people, possibly members of a family, outside of a small, probably rural building (circa 1910), with 9 people, a hand-pump well, numerous wooden crates, pitchforks and other tools and a fair bit of snow still on the ground. An amusing RP showed a very large raft with horses and several people being pulled by a motor boat. The caption read “Our motor boat and horses on North Lake, August 15, 1913. The Merkleys.” North Lake is on the Ontario-Minnesota border near Thunder Bay. Several military parade cards of the 52nd Battalion arriving home in Port Arthur in 1919 were shown. Carl Schlosser provided some information about the cards. Because of the year, it was likely that the group was stuck in Europe after the end of the World War I until they could get transportation home. It is apparently very unusual for troops to be wearing helmets on parade, yet aside from the band, the entire contingent sported helmets as the men marched in parade formation.

Alan Hebb showed a number of cards, including some real photo cards of real people. One from the B.C. Forest Service showed a large hanging cigarette and was captioned “The one who dropped it should also be hanged. Prevent Forest Fires.” The next cards were “groupies”, as he called them – groups of people. The first was of students at Halifax Medical College, which became Dalhousie Medical School. Others were the Royal King’s Rifles of Halifax, the cable ship Mackay Bennett at dock in 1909 before the Halifax disaster, with its crew, a group shot of the Royal Marines in Halifax (early 20th century), and another of Scottish pipers, Halifax, Nova Scotia.

We moved on from the "My Three Cards" topic. Carl Schlosser reported that he and his wife went to Buffalo on March 15, and while his wife shopped, Carl attended the Buffalo Postcard Club's annual show and sale. Luck Postcards (as they are known on the internet sales sites) had lots of boxes of $1 cards for those willing to spend the time to go through them, and Carl managed to buy a few good cards. Carl advises getting medical insurance coverage for trips to the U.S. He told us that he has already booked his Megabus seat for the Montreal Postcard Show on June 6th. Carl's cost for the Toronto-Montreal round trip is $30.20. He pays a very reasonable rate for parking his car for the day at a hotel near the bus terminal in Toronto.

Larry Cherns attended the March Party Stamp Exhibition in Cleveland, Ohio, which ran from March. He acquired postal history and stamps, and some post cards at 25 cents each. (U.S. dollars mind you, so probably a whopping 30 cents Canadian!)

Quite a few of us went to the Kitchener show. Besides Jon, who was pandering to the masses with boxes of iceboat and cards and the club book (Thanks Jon!), club member attendees included Alan Hebb, Bill Nancekivell, Peggy MacLeod, Joyce Farnell and Marg Brown, Mike Smith, who was selling books, Derek Dalton and Brenda and Frank Hoyles, who were selling post cards, Ron Sinclair, and probably a few more. The club was well represented. My apologies to anyone I haven't mentioned.

Jon said that book sales had subsided after Christmas. The February Art Crawl on James Street was not well attended, and with the cold weather, you can hardly blame people for wanting to stay indoors. Jon hopes that the Royal Botanical Gardens might become a seller of the book. He will try to tempt them by showing them the many (more than 20) early post cards of the rock garden. They might be able to use them for marketing purposes for the rejuvenated rock garden, or possibly to encourage donations for the project. Jon will look into getting a street booth (probable cost about $50) for the James Street SuperCrawl, which takes place from September 11 to 13 and sees crowds of 110,000 people. More information is available at www.supercrawl.ca. We'll need a few people to take turns manning the booth, if we opt to do this. The Art Crawl is the second Friday of each month, and has much lower attendance, but still might be worth looking at if the commercial vendors of our book who operate on James Street North don't mind. Retailers HIsTory and HERitage (The Hamilton Store) and Mixed Media sell the book, but it is a very minor part of their inventories.

Discussion moved on. Jon gave a brief financial report noting that he had recently paid for the web site renewal for several years to save money. Because of Janet Dalton's death, a great deal of red tape was involved in transferring control of the domain name (ghpcc.ca) and site from her name, and to have another web administrator take over. Fortunately, that has all been completed.

We are still looking for a permanent location for the monthly meetings. Alan Hebb, Ron Sinclair and Jon Soyka have looked at another 2 possibilities. Fortinos in Burlington, in the same shopping centre as IKEA, has a room which is O.K. and would accommodate at least 50 people. Sobey's at Brant and the North Service Road in Burlington has a teaching kitchen which would be suitable. The Canadian Football Hall of Fame is available, but some club members have said that they won't come to Hamilton for meetings.

Jon brought copies of a Post Office magazine entitled "Details", which people were free to pick up from the tables outside of the auditorium. Numerous sets of post cards are currently being offered by Canada Post. The Canadian Photography 2015 and Canadian Photography 2014 post card sets appear in the magazine. The Canadian Photography 2013 post cards, the first set in the 5-year series, is still available from the online store (www.canadapost.ca/shop). There are other post card sets available as well (Canadian Recording Artists, Canadian Country Artists, etc.). Besides the "Details" publication, Jon also had placed other items on the tables outside the auditorium, including boxes of post cards for sale, some reproduction post cards for sale for $1 each, show cards for our September show which people were encouraged to take and distribute, and also notices for other shows.

Jon's been travelling around town with his camera again. He started his PowerPoint "Doubles: Then and Now" show, part of which we saw in February, and which showed post cards and photographs of the locations as they currently exist. One card showed the old YMCA at James and Jackson, the second and third floor of which housed a secondary school. Jon looked for the RFC Barracks near Aberdeen and Longwood, as seen at the February meeting's show and tell. The building is gone. The general store and ice cream parlour owned by Sandra Beveridge's great grandmother and great grandfather was shown. It was located at Upper James and Genessee, and they lived in the back. We saw the Pure Milk Company between Hughson & John Streets. The card recently sold for $106 on eBay. We saw St. Peter's Church at Sanford and Main, which has since moved. The building is now a Russian Orthodox Church. We saw the Grand Trunk Railway station from the Bay Street Bridge, and work on the new station which is supposed to be ready for the Pan Am Games. We saw White City for Tourists on Highway 8 between Grimsby and Hamilton. The house is still there, but the tourists are gone. A card of Alexandra Street which we looked at when Jon came up with the idea for the book, later became East 24th Street. One new house was built between the two WWI era houses shown on the post card. Oakwood and Annex Hotel Accommodation at 137 Catherine Street North, was the home of Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson while he attended the Hamilton Collegiate Institute, from 1910 to 1913. A card of 189 Lottridge shows the Magnet Cream Separator building behind it. The Cream Separator was produced by the Petrie Manufacturing Company. John seems to like puzzles. He's been tracking down locations based upon the cards and the contents of the messages they convey. The watchman for the GTR (a Mr. McHooton, based upon a message from one card) kept an eye on the railway signal arm from that small building on Lottridge. The Petrie/Magnet Cream Separator building later was owned by Frost Fence and has another use today. A real photo of a parade in Dundas sold for $89 online recently. Jon noted an unusual card of Central Normal College taken from the air. Jon has been able to find locations and information about former owners or tenants from Vernon's Directory. Companies which produced such directories, hired people to knock on doors and find out information about the land use and occupants, well into the 1980's. Other companies produced directories in other cities. For instance the Henderson Directory documented Fort William and Port Arthur. Your humble editor worked for the Henderson Directory for a short while one summer. Jon says that the Vernon's Directories are available for reference in the Hamilton Public Library.

The last pictures we saw, courtesy of Jon and his trusty digital camera, were of a tree branch which had grown around a cable, and was left suspended high over the sidewalk and road at Burwood Drive and Tyrone Drive after the tree was cut down. The section of branch is approximately 2' long and 9" across, and in a high wind could easily land on a car, or on people walking on the sidewalk below. There are schools nearby so children and students are frequent passers by. Jon has been calling all concerned parties – the cable company, the city, the Spectator, to try to get someone to take responsibility, or persuade others to take responsibility, and remove the branch, but to no avail. We'll no doubt hear more about the continuing saga as it unfolds.

We adjourned at 9:30 p.m.
